

16. An alternative method for the food product is as a dietary supplement due to the vitamins provided in the honey within the capsule.
17. The use of this food product is to make it more convenient to consume tea within tea or other hot beverages.

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Drops of Honey is a capsule that is filled with honey. This capsule filled with honey is a food product in which the capsule dissolves in boiling water. This allows for the honey to escape into the beverage of choice, preferably tea. It is a food product that will be mainly used with tea and other hot beverages. A method of the product is to sweeten tea. Another method for Drops of Honey is to be used as a dietary supplement. The objective of Drops of Honey is to make it more convenient for the consumer to consume honey within tea or other hot beverages.